

Demonstrate on May Day!

WORKERS OF SASKATOON:

May Day, the first of May, is the workers' day of International Solidarity; the day when the working class the world over reviews its forces, demonstrating its power and solidarity against the capitalist class and prepares for working class power.

Here in Saskatoon, as in all parts of the capitalist world, we feel the full weight of the crisis. Those on relief are forced to accept slow starvation while the city pays hundreds of thousands of dollars to banks and debenture holders. The City Council which spent thousands of dollars for Mounted Police to break up working class organizations, refuses to spend $200.00 to give the unemployed garden seeds. The relief store which was "abolished" at the last civic election, is still here and the relief board is more and more interfering with the private lives of the unemployed.

The employed workers are but little better off. The civic employees have had their wages cut so that they alone pay the city share of relief costs. Even the right to an arbitration board is denied them. The Minimum Wage Act has become a farce; cafes pay their girls $1.50 to $2.00 a week. The one year 10% cut for railroaders has been extended and increased. On every hand it is the workers who are made to stand the gaff so that banking barons and financial lords may loll in luxury.

If the workers protest then their legal rights are taken from them. When the unemployed protest to the City Hall they are denied entrance. If they assemble outside the right is denied them. If they organize in slave camps they are attacked by police and their leaders sent to Prince Albert jail for long terms. By open dictatorship, by attempting to crush the working class movement, the authorities, civic, provincial and Dominion, seek to place all the burden of the crisis on the backs of the workers, denying to us the legal right of organization, free speech and assembly.

In their frenzied efforts to find a way out of the crisis, the capitalist class are driven more and more to war and war preparations. The single unemployed are in slave camps preparing military camps and air ports. War metals, nickel and scrap iron are in great demand. On every hand, as conference after conference fails, war preparations become more intense and war talk more open.

Like a beacon in the darkness the Soviet Union points to a successful working class solution of the crisis. There the standard of living of the workers is improving. Relief is unknown; unemployment does not exist. Triumphant Socialism in the Soviet Union reveals more strikingly by contrast the decay of capitalism, showing to the workers that they alone, by their unity and power, can bring a successful solution to our difficulties.

Workers of Saskatoon, let us take our place in the world-wide review of the working class on May Day. Let us join this monster demonstration of working class power. The May Day Conference calls all workers in Saskatoon to a
